NEPTUN
SAFETY FOOTWEAR

SAFELITE

The SafeLite safety industrial boot is proudly manufactured in South Africa, specifically crafted to endure harsh conditions prevalent in mining, agriculture, and construction industries. Engineered with metal-free safety components, these boots are notably lighter in weight, reducing fatigue for workers enduring 8-hour workdays. Complying with EN ISO 20345, this safety boot guarantees adherence to safety standards, ensuring comprehensive protection for users

BENEFITS

The benefits of using metal-free safety footwear are numerous. Firstly, the absence of metal significantly reduces wearer fatigue. The polycarbonate toe cap is a standout feature, capable of withstanding impact forces of 200 joules and compression of 1500 N. This not only helps prevent injuries but also aids in easier treatment, given its capacity to recover post-impact. Additionally, the polycarbonate toe cap boasts a remarkable quality—it doesn't retain heat and remains unaffected by extreme weather conditions. Moreover, the 2mm water-resistant leather adds another layer of protection, making it a comprehensive choice for various work environments.
